Title of the Course: IED 388 English Novel III (01)

Ins: Assoc. Prof. Dr. Aytül Özüm

Year and Term: 2013-2014 Spring

Class Hours and Classroom: Thu: 13:00- 15:50 ZNG

Aim and Content: This course examines the modernist movement in the British Novel that emerged in the early 1900s and continued till the 1940s. The course aims to convey the course material under the light of aesthetic, philosophic and intellectual developments during that period. First, to better understand the roots of modernism and modernist philosophy and the projection of modernist thinking on the British Novel, there will be a survey of the ideas and philosophies of Marx, Darwin, Freud, Jung, Nietzsche, Saussure, W. James, Einstein, Woolf and Bergson and their contribution to this great change in the novel genre. Second, to understand the ideological stance of the thinkers and the writers of the period, the course will continue with certain key essays written during and after the period of modernism. Then the selected novels will be analysed technically and thematically. The focus of the course will be on the texts and how and why the texts can be categorised as modernist texts.

Method of Instruction: The course will be based on lectures and in-class discussion of the assigned material. Class participation is of vital importance. For participation the students should read the articles and the novels beforehand. The second midterm is not obligatory, it is suggested for those whose grades are below 60 in Midterm I.

Requirements: The students are expected to read and think about the assigned novel. More than 11 hours of absence will result in F1.

Assessment: There will be two midterms (50%), the second one is optional and a final exam (50%). In the grading of exam papers and presentations, up to 25% of the total mark will be taken off for grammatical and writing mistakes. Marks below 50 in the final will be regarded as failure. Class participation will be seriously taken into consideration while giving the final grades.
