Week VII- IX: Early 20th Century: Drawing-room Comedy: Noel Coward, Blithe Spirit
Week X: April 29, 2011, Midterm II
Week XIII-XIV: Irish Drama: John Millington Synge, Riders to the Sea

Textbook: There is no set textbook for this course. Students themselves are responsible for obtaining the texts of the works stated in the course outline.

Method of Instruction: Lessons will consist of lectures, student presentations, and in-class discussions.

Requirements:
- Class attendance is necessary; therefore, more than eleven hours of absence will result in F1.
- Since contribution in class discussions is essential, students are expected to attend the classes having read the texts.
- Students are expected to make three- to five-minute presentations on the plays stated in the course outline, either individually or in groups.
- Students are to make ample use of the library and read secondary sources on the plays which will be explored in this course.

Assessment: There will be two midterm examinations, a presentation, and a final examination. The evaluation of students' academic work will be based on:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Component</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Presentation and class participation</td>
<td>10 %</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Midterm examinations</td>
<td>40 %</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Final examination</td>
<td>50 %</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

It should be especially noted that those who will not be able to take 50 points (out of 100) in the final examination will fail the course. Moreover, students’ English will definitely be taken into consideration in the grading of examination papers, and up to 25 % of the total mark will be taken off for grammatical and writing mistakes.
