III. METHOD OF INSTRUCTION: Lectures and class discussions, supported with audio-visual material.

IV. COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND STUDENT CONDUCT: Class attendance is obligatory and failure to attend one-third or more of the class hours will result in an F1. “No shows” on exam days will not be compensated for by assignment of extra work, so do not ask for it. If a student has documented excuse accepted by the Faculty Academic Board in accordance with University Regulations, a make-up exam will be given. Questions, discussion, and disagreement are all encouraged in this class. However, any kind of disruptive behavior will never be tolerated.
Likewise, academic dishonesty of any kind will not be tolerated. This includes all forms of plagiarism, cheating on assignments or exams, turning in work that has been written partially or entirely by someone else (this includes websites), failing to appropriately represent and document sources, fabricating information or citations, or helping another student commit an act of academic dishonesty.

V. ASSESSMENT: There will be two midterm examinations (20% each), two reflection papers (5% each), and a final exam (50%). For a passing grade, students must get at least 50 out of 100 in the final exam. Up to 10% of the total score in each exam will be deducted for poor English (e.g. bad grammar, worse spelling, etc.).

The topics for reflection papers will be assigned by the instructor during the semester. Reflection papers will be short essays (3-5 pages long) based on student’s comments (not on research, so “No Works Cited page(s)” please), typed, double-spaced, grammatically correct, and submitted in hard copy form, which must fully comply with MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers, 7th edition, on the due date specified by the instructor. Up to 10% of the total score in reflection papers will be deducted for poor English, and up to 20% for incompliance with the MLA style. Failure to submit reflection papers on the due date will result in the automatic taking away of 10 points out of 100 for each successive weekday until the paper is submitted (maximum of 3 weekdays are tolerated).

VI. REQUIRED TEXTS: There is no textbook for this course. Handouts and short primary texts will be provided by the instructor, to be photocopied by students, at least a week before the class meeting at which a subject will be studied. However, it is the responsibility of the students to acquire and read the longer primary texts such as novels. The following texts are required:
